I love the game, I like how the maker gives you a lot of tools. Although it felt confusing at first I got used to it. I would really appreciate if you could change the name of a level.

Thank you for your kind words! You can change the level name by tapping on the name right before publishing :)

The artstyle is cute, the prebuilt levels are challenging, and the level designer is intuitive. This game is great!

This game is amazing! The levels are so challenging yet fun, and the level editor is very easy to use. Still, despite being so simple, the possibilities are endless!

For me: the better mario maker. Easy game play mechanics, nice design, good music, self explaining level editor.

Great game experience. Nice controls, nice level editor. Publishing levels is a very appreciated feature. Monetization is limited to cosmetic items. I would lower the volume of the sound effects, as they are too loud compared to the background music. Other than that 5/5, thank you dev <3 I've shared with friends.

Very good mario maker type game but with it's own spin on it. I'm having a blast making my own level. Controls are good and it looks nice. Only one minor complaint, it would be nice if you can double tap something like a trap to explain what they do, other than that really good game would recommend

I simply love this game. The gameplay is fun, you can play it for 3mins if you're in a rush and still make some progress, there are infinite levels because players cand make them, and the controls are great.
